

Sulky Race Course

For centuries horse races were held in Pfarrkirchen on market day. The first sulky race course in Bavaria was built in Pfarrkirchen in 1894. The 1000 meter long sand track has been a popular meeting place for sulky race fans and horse breeders ever since. Traditional horse races take place every year during the Whitsun weekend on the oldest race track in Bavaria. The highlight is the Bavarian Breeders Race on Whit Tuesday.

Besides equine sport, it is also home to motorcycling. Every year dirt track races are conducted. Pfarrkirchen has already been the venue for dirt track world championships several times.
